

A changing world

Kersti Lundin – European Society of Human reproduction and Embryology (ESHRE)

- Genetic screening – patients, embryos (carrier / aneuploidy)
- Third party donation – the genome on the internet (genetic ancestry testing)
- Germline genome editing
- New society regarding family building - regulation often inadequate
- Epigenetic changes? – how flexible are we?
- Introduction of novel (non-tested and/or non-evidence based) techniques, driven by companies and patients. Studies often performed/sponsored by companies. Patents...
- Different regulations in MS → crossborder care (good and bad)

Changing risks, changes in society, bio-technological innovations, globalisation, commercialisation